

Manchester Hadracha Aleph

Time: Sunday 5:30-7:00pm

Location: Manchester location, TBA

What is Hadracha Aleph:

Hadracha Aleph is the first year of our flagship leadership programme, designed to guide participants on their journey from chanichim (participants) to madrichim (leaders).

Once enrolled you will participate in fortnightly sessions that explore a range of themes centred on leadership and FZY. The course also includes a Shabbaton weekend called 'Hadsem,' where participants from both the Aleph (Year 12) and Bet (Year 13) come together for a special FZY shabbat centered on the theme of leadership.

This year part of the course will include completing a Level 1 CPD-recognised safeguarding course, further enhancing our participants skills and qualifications.

Some examples of the type of sessions included are, 'how to communicate in a team', 'how to command a room', 'the various styles of leadership' and many, many more fun and exciting programming.

Participants not only receive leadership training but also are given the space to explore their relationship and connection with Israel, Judaism, and social action. We believe this holistic approach equips them to become the next generation of FZY Madrichim (leaders). Many of our top leaders have risen through the ranks after graduating from our Hadracha course, demonstrating our proven ability to train and inspire future leaders.

The skills acquired in this course are perfect to quote in job and university applications and the opportunities offered to those who take on this course will certainly enhance their career prospects too.

Here are some more details about some of the opportunities offered as part of the course:

Hadsem (Hadracha Seminar): Hadsem is a weekend seminar designed for participants of the Hadracha Course, including both Aleph and Bet levels. Taking place over Shabbat, this residential experience offers a blend of learning, skill-building, and leadership development in a fun and engaging setting. Throughout the weekend, participants will engage in a series of interactive workshops, collaborative activities, and discussions focused on enhancing their leadership abilities and honing essential skills. Hadsem is included in the price of the Hadracha course.

Fundraising campaigns: One of FZY's aims is tzedakah- acts of goodwill and generosity. We believe it's important to facilitate it on Hadracha. Over the duration of the course, there will be lots of opportunities for fundraising events and volunteering at community days where participants can give back to the Jewish and local community. These opportunities will be organised by the participants so therefore these events are currently not included on the schedule as they will be planned when the course starts.

Here are some more details about some of the FZY opportunities that Hadracha Aleph opens the door to:

Veida (20th-23rd February): Veida is a legendary shabbaton weekend in FZY, as it is for all ages who are members of the movement. The members come together to decide new rules for the movement and elect new positions within the movement. All done over a classic FZY shabbat full of shabbatmosphere, Veida is one not to miss! This shabbaton is separate to the price of the Hadracha course and details will come our nearer the time. The price will be discounted for Hadracha members.

Netina (Dates TBC – Mid August): FZY have partnered with Project TEN, The Jewish Agency for Israel, to offer Netina – a 10-day programme in Ghana which focusses on cultural exchange and education-based volunteering, as well as bringing young people into a framework of core Jewish values, including Tzedakah (Charity) and Tikkun Olam (Social Action.) Netina gives participants the opportunity to travel to Ghana for a programme with strong roots in local community, cultural exchanges, and developmental projects. Participants will work to develop 21st century skills in the children and youth they will meet throughout the week on projects ingrained into the local daily life. Participants will create and strengthen ties of friendship between the two cultures, working with Ghanaians and deepening their own understanding of the developing world around them. Participants will also get the chance to share their skills, put into practice their leadership on the ground and experience challenges in a unique and exciting environment.
